

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Kovels on Antiques and Collectibles April 2012 Newsletter Available

SUMMARY – Kovels on Antiques and Collectibles April 2012 issue is now available. Featured this month are picture and price auction reports on Madame Alexander's Cissy Fashion Dolls, Costume Jewelry and American Classical Furniture.

CLEVELAND – April 1, 2012 – Kovels on Antiques and Collectibles April 2012 issue is now available in print and online.

The April Kovels' issue reports on Madame Alexander Cissy dolls from the 1950s and '60s that sold at auction, where a 1956 Madame Alexander Cissy doll dressed for a fancy ball sold for the fancy price of $1,232. Kovels' April issue has pictures and prices of some sparkly costume jewelry that sold recently in Cincinnati, where a Weiss rhinestone butterfly pin sold for a bargain $60. And if you're interested in antique furniture that would be perfect for a stylish room today, Kovels on Antiques and Collectibles reports on chairs, tables and cabinets made in the American Classical style that sold at auction in New Orleans. Find pictures, prices and more in the April issue.

You can also find pictures and prices of Arts and Crafts Metalware and Sumida Gawa pottery in Kovels' April newsletter. Terry Kovels shares her favorites from Americana Week in New York City while Kim Kovel goes "On the Road" to Southern California. And regular monthly features—the Dictionary of Marks, featuring Eva Zeisel dinnerware, the popular illustrated Collector's Gallery with answers to readers' questions, and the Buyer's Price Guide of recent prices—are also included.

With its mixture of expert advice and reports on what's hot in the market, the newsletter has something to offer for both beginning and experienced collectors.
